Naturopathic doctor, others want Bill C-51 amended

By Tom Ayers
CAPE BRETON POST

SYDNEY RIVER — The federal government's Bill C-51, intended to update the Food and Drug Act and its regulations, isn't necessarily a conspiracy by drug companies to control natural health products, a local naturopathic doctor says.

However, after attending a town hall meeting at Our Lady of Fatima Church hall Tuesday, hosted by local Liberal MPs Rodger Cuzner and Mark Eyking, Dr. John Hawrylak said it's clear the Conservative government's draft legislation needs to be amended.

"The bill is about regulations and natural health products should be regulated, we've always agreed with that," said Hawrylak. "Now, they shouldn't be lumped under pharmaceuticals. I don't agree with that."

Critics and consumers have expressed concern that the bill is an attack on their right to choose natural health-care products, including common vitamins and herbal remedies, and will help pharmaceutical companies by reducing competition.

Hawrylak said the wording of Bill C-51 is ambiguous and could lead people to interpret it incorrectly. However, he said he was assured by Liberal health critic Robert Thibault, who was invited by the MPs to attend the meeting, that the intent of the bill was to add new manufacturing and labelling regulations to natural health products, not to subject them all to clinical trials similar to pharmaceuticals.

"It needs to be clearer," said Hawrylak. "We need to get standardization in manufacturing and labelling. It should probably be reworded to divide the natural health products into a separate area."

He also said some people are concerned the wording of the bill will eliminate Canadian testing and will establish global standards, which could be problematic for certain products.

For example, Hawrylak said, under the European Codex system, patients requiring vitamin C doses over 50 milligrams are required to have a doctor's prescription. That could limit people's choices here, he added, because naturopaths have no prescription powers in Canada.

Eyking said about 85 people attended the meeting and everyone went home with a better understanding of the issues involved.

"It was a very good dialogue back and forth," he said. "Almost everyone asked questions and I think they were assured that their voices were heard."

Eyking also said a number of people passed around a petition opposed to Bill C-51 and he will be taking that to the standing committee on health when Parliament resumes sitting in the fall.

"There's no doubt there is still concern about the bill," he said.
